Emaciated Tenants of the Legations

Had Remaining Only Three Days' Rations.

Remey Tells of Capt. Reilly's Death.

American Troops First to Enter Peking.

Chinese Had Continually Violated the Armistice.

Admiral Bruce Tells of Later Fighting.

London, Aug. 22.—(Spl.)—A dispatch from Peking dated Aug. 14, says: "The American and Russian flags were hoisted on the east wall at 11 this morning. The Indian troops entered the British legation at 1 o'clock and the Americans at 3. They were joyfully received by the emaciated tenants who could not have held out much longer. The Chinese had been attacking furiously for two days. The casualties to the defenders were 65 killed and 100 wounded.

"The Japanese are still fighting near the north wall. Their casualties are unknown. The Russians had five killed and 12 wounded. The English and Americans had a few wounded.

"The sounds of a heavy attack on the legation caused a change in the plan of the allies. It was originally intended to attack the city on Aug. 15.

"The English and Americans met light resistance until they entered the city. Captain Reilly (commanding the American artillery battalion) made a brave attempt to breach the inner wall. The troops finally entered the foreign settlement through the canal.

"The Chinese had continually violated the armistice.

"The food supplies sent by the Empress were sufficient for only one day."

REMEY

Says American Troops Were First to Enter Peking—Capt. Reilly's Death.

Washington, Aug. 22.—(Spl.)—A cablegram from Admiral Remey giving additional particulars of the entrance of the Allied forces into the Imperial city and telling of the death of Captain Reilly of the Fifth artillery, was posted by the Bureau of Navigation this morning. Admiral Remey says:

"Chefoo, Aug. 21.—Bureau of Navigation, Washington: Taku twentieth. Dickens command landing today. Peking, 16, all except Imperial City cleared of Chinese troops. American troops, first to enter Imperial City, have penetrated to gates of Palace. Captain Reilly, Fifth Artillery, killed on fifteenth. Morning nineteenth, Sixth cavalry and about four hundred English and Japanese dispersed about 1,000 Boxers eight miles outside Tien Tsin. About 100 Chinese killed, five Americans wounded. Chinese losses, six killed, 30 wounded, two days' fighting.

FIGHTING

Was Going on Near Tien Tsin, on Aug. 15.

London, Aug. 22.—(Spl.)—The Admiralty has received the following dispatch from Rear Admiral Bruce:

"Taku, Aug. 20.—I have received the following from the general command:

"Peking, Aug. 17.—I regret that owing ing to the heavy-roads the naval brigade was unable to participate in the entry into Peking as there was no transportation for their guns. The casualties among British at Peking were a captain and two privates of marines killed and a captain and eight men wounded."

The Admiral reports that there was fighting six miles south of Tien Tsin on August 19.

Cablegram From Barry.

Washington, Aug. 22.—(Spl.)—The War Department gave out the following cablegram from Gen. Barry this morning:

"Adjutant General, Washington. "Tien Tsin, Aug. 19.—With reference to your cablegram of 16, horses materials and troops promptly lightered at Taku and forwarded to front. Sixth Cavalry mounted. Grant should be in Manila now. Hospitals excellent. Ample for present army. Well supplied and in fine condition. Everything satisfactory. Go to Peking tomorrow; sick and wounded doing well. Barry."

Official Buildings Burned.

Yokohama, Aug. 22.—(Spl.)—The Japanese vice consul, at Shoungching, near Gensan, Korea, reports that 1,000 Korean rebels attacked and wrecked and burned the official buildings at Shoungching.

miles) and are moving the troops of all the nations.

The Ninth regiment has arrived from Manila, and have hard fighting at Tien Tsin. Many have been killed, including Col. Liscomb. There are no Chinese around Taku now; those that have not been killed have fled.

This is an awful war. No prisoners are taken—all wounded are killed.

I have seen Chinese killed by the thousands.

CONFESSED TO THE AWFUL CRIME

At 8 o'clock, the officer succeeded in getting a statement from Peck, partially admitting the crime.

The Prisonkeeper, with consummate skill, led the fellow on, finally induced him to agree to make a clear confession before other officers.

Prosecutor Wanamaker was hurriedly called to the prison cell. In company with Officer Washer he secured a complete confession. Then desiring to make it secure, the confession was again made by Peck, at the suggestion of Washer, before a Democrat reporter, three policemen and a stenographer employed by Prosecutor Wanamaker, the stenographer taking down verbatim the questions of Mr. Wanamaker and the confession of Peck.

PECK'S STORY.

Talks In Detail About Himself and His Crime.

The details in Peck's confession, as contained in the stenographic report secured for Prosecuting Attorney Wanamaker, have not yet been written out, nor will the report be completed soon. Desiring to allay if possible, the public sentiment against the negro, Prosecutor Wanamaker is desirous of withholding from the public as much of the evidence as he can, believing that to publish all, would arouse too much sentiment against the prisoner. That evidence which the prosecutor does not care to have published, is not fit for publication, any way. It relates to the methods employed by the fiend in accomplishing his design.

According to his story, told to Prisonkeeper Washer, and Prosecutor Wanamaker, Lewis Peck is 30 years old, has a wife and one son. He came to this city from Garrettsville, O., last February. He and his family lived at the corner of Mill and High sts. Peck worked at some of the rubber plants, and was employed at the Bank cafe. He acted fraudulently, when he hired the livery rig, telling the liveryman to charge the bill to Mr. Koerber, when he had no authority to make such a statement.

"On Monday afternoon," said Peck, "I was drinking. I got three whiskeys at one saloon, and then bought half a pint of whiskey. After that I went to Pringle's livery barn, and got a rig I left the stable at 4 o'clock. I started to drive out West Market street and finally got around by East ave. I had picked up a boy while on the way. saw the little girl playing in the lane near her home, and I asked her if she didn't want a ride. She said 'yes,' and I helped her into the buggy. When we got to the foot of a hill, I ordered the boy to get out and go home. He obeyed. I lifted the little girl into my lap and told her what a nice looking little girl she was. I then took off her underclothing and attempted the assault.

"The little girl said: "What are you doing?" and I stopped the rig, and went into an orchard and got her a couple of apples. We were then two and a half miles from town, and as a great storm was approaching, I turned the buggy around, and started toward Akron. I again assaulted the girl, and when she cried I compelled her to keep quiet. When we got to the wood, I helped the little girl out, and told her that she was near home.

"I then came to Akron, got a boy to take the buggy to the livery stable, changed my shirt and skipped out."

TO COUNTY JAIL.

Peck will be removed there this Evening.

Peck is carefully guarded at the City prison, and no information can be obtained, relative to the place in which he will be imprisoned until his trial in Common Pleas court.

jail?" Prosecutor Wanamaker was asked.

"I have nothing to say," was the reply.

The officers realize that they have a bad case on their hands, and they are reticent.

It is rumored about the City building that Peck will tonight be removed to some out-of-town prison for safe keeping.

Peck is now thoroughly frightened. He scarcely ate any dinner.

It was stated this afternoon that Peck will be removed to the county jail, between 6 and 7 o'clock. He will be escorted by a large number of officers.

Many people have telephoned to the City building for information concerning the place at which Peck will be kept, and trouble is feared.

Peck will be taken to the County jail early this evening.

NO LAWYER.

The Negro, Peck, Has Not Yet Secured Counsel.

As yet, Peck, has not secured a lawyer. He has not even talked about such matters. As time goes by, he is arriving at a proper realization of his position, and with it comes an accompaniment of great fear.
